His biggest Secret

How could he do something like this to her? Does she know? No, then she would have left him. Why oh why did I look at his cellphone? I just can't believe what I saw. I have to ask him myself so that I can be sure, that it's one hundred percent true. I will ask him, if he has time tonight, then I will confront him. I'm hoping that it isn't true because this secret would destroy everything. Our whole family.

Two hours later.

I have been waiting for him for ten minutes. Where is he? And then I see him. He comes closer and closer and I'm already preparing how to start at all. Suddenly he stands right in front of me. "Hi Dad" I greet him. He just smiles at me and sits down. I don't wait long and ask him right away, why I asked him here. "How could you do something like this to Mum?!" I said loudly. He looked shocked. He already seemed to know what I mean but he asked me anyway what I meant by that. "That you are cheating on Mum with her best friend!" I screamed at the top of my lungs. And at that moment, I only see from the corner of my eye that Mum is standing in the door and had heard everything. She looks shocked. I think she wanted to surprise us by coming home earlier from the trip with her friends. Mum stares at Dad and sees how guilty he looks. I thought because of this affair, Mum's best friend had stayed home instead of going with them on the girl's trip. And then she only takes her things and runs out. Dad looks at me so angrily because I have just told her his biggest secret. Then he runs after and tries to explain himself. But she keeps running.....
